Bookmarking in Google Chrome

To create a bookmark using the Google Chrome browser, you may view this brief video Bookmarking in Google Chrome (please note that the "hot dog lines" referred to in the video are now the three vertical organize dots ⋮).

If you prefer, you may follow the directions below:

1. On your computer, open Chrome.
2. At the top right, click ⋮ > Bookmarks > ensure that Show Bookmarks Bar is checked.
3. You can add a folder by right-clicking the bookmarks bar. Click Add Folder.
4. Name your folder with a familiar name so you will know what is inside.
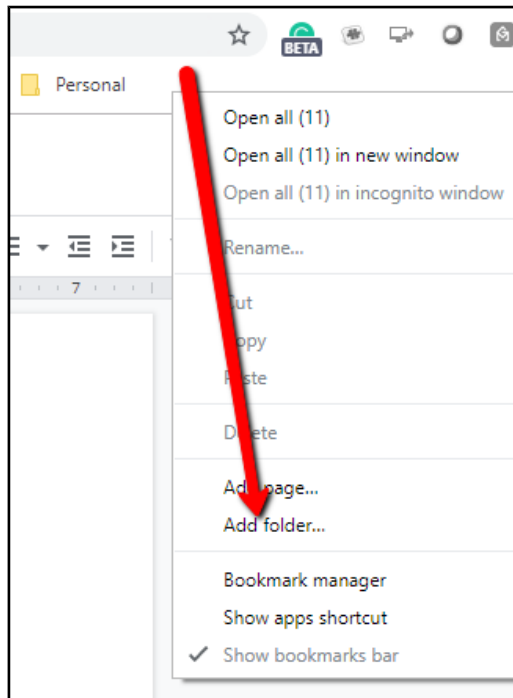

Adding items to your folder:

1. Open a website.
2. Click on the icon next to the website address. Drag and drop it into your new folder or place directly on your bookmark bar.
3. Repeat this with the other links.
Editing, deleting, and rearranging items on your bookmarks bar:

1. To edit items on your bookmarks bar, right-click on the bookmark and select edit.
2. To delete items, right-click and select delete.
3. To rearrange items, drag and drop them where needed.
